Green Revenue and R&D Methodology

Our Approach

ADI currently references the FTSE Russell Green Revenues Classification System 2.0 (GRCS), one of the few public, comprehensive taxonomies for green products and services. The GRCS provides set descriptions for sectors, subsectors and micro-sectors, to which we consulted as we mapped our product families to potential end applications or sustainable use cases that benefit the environment. As the field evolves, we will reference and/or adhere to appropriate classification systems and regulatory guidance.
