Revision Description:

Initial Release

Description Of Change

ADI will be making a change to the top marking/brand on our device. The brand is being revised to remove the ADI logo and replace with a pin 1 identifier.

Reason For Change

The marking format change is being incorporated in order to meet industry standards and customer demand. Addition of the pin 1 identifier is a more standard and preferred method for device orientation identification as noted by subcontract manufacturers to our customers.

Impact of the change (positive or negative) on fit, form, function & reliability

This change will not impact device fit, function, or reliability as it is a brand change only.

Summary of Supporting Information

No reliability testing needed as this is a change to the brand/top marking only.
